

HORIZON

NUCLEAR POWER

COMMUNITIES

Case Study

ENERGY WORKING FOR BRITAIN

Station community garden on track with help from Horizon

Horizon is to help transform Llanerch-y-medd's derelict railway station into a bustling community garden through a donation from its Charitable Donations, Community Support & Sponsorship Scheme.

Llanerch-y-medd Station Community Garden applied for the donation to help turn the run down station yard, into a community amenity and a valuable habitat for local wildlife.

The project will provide the community with new green space to enjoy, as well as space for local school children to learn about the environment and grow their own plants.

Volunteers from the local community have already got their hands dirty with the initial works and the donation from Horizon means they can now develop the project further, with the money going towards purchasing a new shed to house all the gardening equipment, plus buying other supplies.

Bella Kennett, representative for Llanerch-y-medd Station Community Garden, said: "We're grateful for Horizon's support on the Project, the donation has helped us progress with our plans and we'll hopefully have a lovely community garden soon."

"We're looking forward to transforming the old railway station yard into a valuable community asset. This will give local people somewhere to relax and enjoy the gardens, as well as potentially give people the chance to boost their DIY skills by getting involved with the landscaping."

If you're interested in getting involved with the Llanerch-y-medd Station Community Garden team, or you want to follow how the garden's coming on then you can visit Llanerch-y-medd Station Community Garden on Facebook.

ENVIRONMENT

EDUCATION AND SKILLS

COMMUNITIES

